CMU students honored at City Commission meeting for Greeks Clean the Streets program

MT. PLEASANT, Mich.— The success of Greeks Clean the Streets – a partnership between the City of Mt. Pleasant and members of Central Michigan University’s Greek sororities and fraternities – was celebrated at the April 25 City Commission meeting. Approximately 100 students stood in the Commission Chambers of City Hall as Mayor Kathy Ling read a proclamation acknowledging the positive impact the groups have had on the community through the program.

“Since inception in 2012, nearly 580 students have participated during 20 events to beautify the residential student neighborhoods by removing almost 300 bags of trash,” said Mayor Ling. “On behalf of the City Commission and the citizens of Mt. Pleasant, I express our sincere appreciation for Greeks Clean the Streets and recognize its members for their contributions to keeping our community a better and cleaner place to live.”

Greeks Clean the Streets is led by the City of Mt. Pleasant’s Neighborhood Resource Unit (NRU).
